

Tailor-made training solutions

STS worldwide

Training

Are you looking for a training that fits your company's specific or individual training needs?

We develop and deliver tailor-made in-house training programs.

Certification

Are you planning a certification in project management?

We propose several methods for your certification preparation.

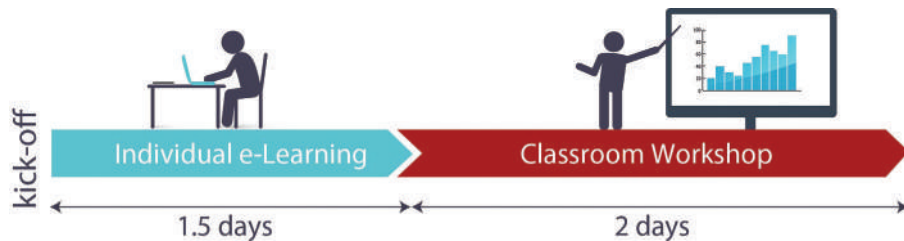

Consulting

Do you want to align your internal project management practices and implement a common project management culture in your organization?

We support you in designing your own project management standard and processes, and accompany you in its implementation with tools, training, and coaching.

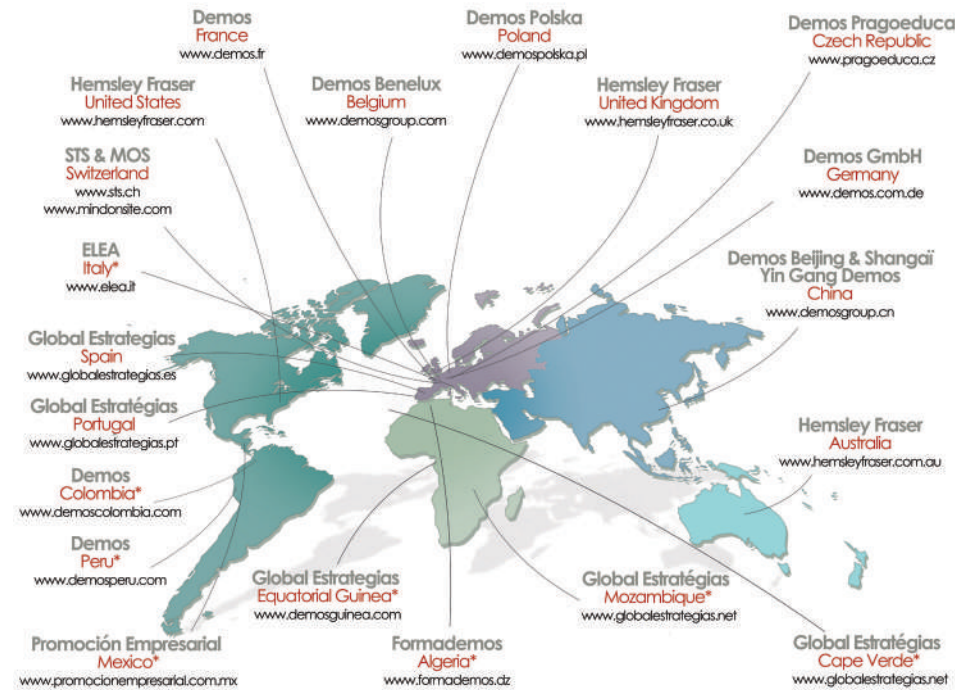

Our learning approach

Our approach is to offer a variety of learning tools that – assembled together – respond to the particular training needs of our clients.

We have developed a variety of training solutions that integrate individual tools as well as interactive classroom activities. Our combination of individual e-Learning and trainer-led classroom activities with inclusion of the project simulation SimulTrain®, for instance, is a standard format.

STS is part of the Demos Group, a worldwide leading training provider.

Project management training just right for you

Who are we and what can we do for you?

State-of-the-art Learning Tools

Step-by-step towards certification

STS Sauter Training & Simulation SA is a Swiss company dedicated to providing worldwide training in project management and developing innovative project management training tools.

Since the development of the project simulator SimulTrain STS SA is one of the leading training companies in project management.

 Project simulation

Game-based learning is one of the most effective learning approaches. The computer-based project management simulation SimulTrain puts the learners in a highly realistic environment where they have to execute a mid-sized project and face all the typical challenges project managers have to deal with every day.

 e-Learning

Learn at your own pace! A well-balanced mix of theory, exercises, examples, videos and checklists provides a diversified learning experience.

 Collaborative e-Learning

This solution combines the advantages of individual, virtual learning with the interactive exchange in the classroom.

 Certification tools

There is only one secret to success in certification exams: practice, practice, practice! Don't leave your success to chance, you can simulate exams as many times as you want.

 Assessment tools

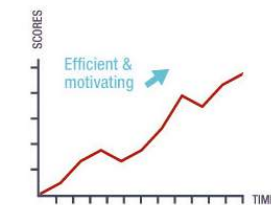

Our assessment tools allow learners to evaluate their strengths and weaknesses – either as part of a training program or in the light of an upcoming assignment.

Do you want to certify the project managers of your company or yourself in project management?

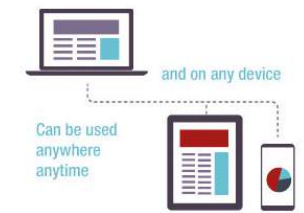

STS proposes individual online preparation, as well as in-company programs or public courses led by experienced trainers.

Our vision

1. Project management is a key competence in any business environment.
2. Projects are done by people, not by tools
3. Learning is changing. Training changes the way things are done - for individuals or in companies; at the same time our way of learning changes.
4. People have different learning needs, styles and behavior which need to be addressed individually.
5. Effective training requires individual curiosity, interaction, collaborative exchange, but of course also fun.
